

Exploring Local History - Monday mornings (28 April to 9 June 2025)

VCH Oxfordshire is running a series of five ‘Exploring Local History’ workshops at The Oxfordshire Museum in Woodstock between 28 April and 9 June, on Monday mornings 10am to 1pm.

Each session includes 3 short illustrated talks on particular topics, with a pronounced ‘how to find out more’ element and plenty of time for discussion. The series is particularly aimed at people engaged in their own local history research, who would like a bit of guidance and some broad historical background - with coffee and biscuits included!

Topics include:

- archaeology and settlement (28 April)
- vernacular buildings (12 May)
- farming, estates, and communities (19 May)
- religion (2 June)
- market towns (9 June)

For full details and booking information see the Oxfordshire Museum’s What’s On pages (scroll down to find each session)

Each session can be booked individually at £10, with a £10 discount if you book all five (recommended but not essential).
